Featured Speaker

Janet is the Senior Public Affairs Specialist with the San Francisco District of the U.S. Food and Drug Administration. In her capacity as a Public Affairs Specialist, she serves as the first line of communication between FDA and the general public, including the media. Her principle responsibility is public education in all matters pertaining to FDA. Except for a one-year stint with USDA's Western Human Nutrition Research Center, Janet has spent her entire career in the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, including three years at FDA's Center for Food Safety and Applied Nutrition in Washington, DC. Janet is a member of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, American Society for Nutrition, Institute of Food Technologists, and the Western Association of Food and Drug Officials.

Janet will be presenting on the following:

- An overview of two proposed rules on the changes to the Nutrition Facts Label
- The status of trans fats and the FDA's current thinking
- Updated of the Food Safety Modernization Act (FSMA) and the timelines for its final rules
- Comment on other current topics
